THE ELDWICK CHURCH NEWS

On Easter Day, 21st April, there will be a short and simple sunrise communion service at 7am on Baildon Moor - near the top car park where the ice cream van sits. In past years we have met sometimes in snow, sometimes with the backdrop of a glorious sunrise, but it is always a very special time.

Our main service is an Easter communion celebration at 10.30 am in the Hall. You are warmly invited to either or both of these services.

Shortly after Easter we are expecting to move back into the refurbished Church as our building project comes to an end.

Keep up with everything we're doing. Find us on Facebook

Dear Editor,

May I encourage everyone, especially those who have certificates for planting commemorative trees on Storystones field behind the former Eldwick School in 2002, to go and look at the empty space now in their place. It seems the developer of the mansion being built on the other side of the wall did not want to look at native trees, so successfully received permission from Education Bradford to strip the land bare.

Explanations sought weeks ago received no response so more requests are needed and a demand to replant! Allan Mirfield

PAT'S PLANTS PROVE POPULAR

Last year Pat Inman impressed us as a knowledgeable member of our Gardeners' Question Time panel and in February she returned to make a solo appearance. On this occasion she described her choices of "Good Garden Plants" and was supported by a superb selection of slides and audience handouts listing the Latin names of nearly 40 different species. For over an hour Pat showed us pictures of her plants, told us why she had selected them, how she grew them, where they had originated and where we could obtain them. She took our audience on a worldwide journey from Asters in America to Impatiens in China via Melianthus from South Africa and included stop-offs in Sicily, Japan and Sardinia. Thanks, Pat, we all really enjoyed this world tour and came away with lots of ideas to add to our own gardens.

SOME TIPS FOR MARCH

Ventilate your greenhouse and cold frames in warmer weather and in cold weather use an electric propagator to encourage early sowings to better germination.

Still in the greenhouse (heated if necessary), start sowing bedding plant seeds to go out after the last frosts; repot orchids and other house plants before they start to grow again; pot on rooted cuttings of perennials taken last summer; sow tomato seeds and bring strawberries under cover for an earlier crop; warm up bags of compost for a week or two before sowing.

Plant fruit trees in a sunny, sheltered spot.

Cut last season's autumn raspberry canes to ground level and cut the tips of any summer raspberry canes which have grown higher than their supports (cut just above a bud).

Use cloches for strawberries, carrots, radishes and lettuce if planting outdoors.

Plant asparagus beds from crowns. Weed and mulch existing asparagus beds (weed by hand to avoid damaging the shallow asparagus roots), dig a trench 20 – 25 cms deep by 30 cms wide with a layer of well-rotted compost along the base, mixed with 85gr/sq.cm. of fish, blood and bone or bonemeal. The crowns should be 45 cms apart with the roots spread out and covered with sieved soil which just covers the emerging buds.

If the soil is not frozen or waterlogged you can plant sets of onions, shallots and garlic. Otherwise sow the sets in individual pots for transplanting when conditions are suitable.

Come and join us in the Memorial Hall on Tuesday 16 April to hear Dianne Nicol-Brown tell us all about the National Plant Collections of Polemoniaceae, Fragaria vesca and Hakonechloa. (It's a lorra lorra Latin, but you'll know them when you see them).

COUNCIL NEWS

The Local Elections are fast approaching and all the seats on Bingley Council are up for re-election as well as a Ward Councillor to represent Bingley on BDMC. Election Day 2nd May.

Eldwick is allocated 2 seats on Bingley Town Council, if no names are forthcoming from the community, then Eldwick could be represented by anyone putting their names forward from anywhere within a 4 mile radius of Bingley. In the unlikely event no-one puts their name forward to represent Eldwick then the council once elected can fill vacant seats by co-option.

Eldwick Needs You.

Some information is on our website: - <http://bingleytowncouncil.gov.uk/make-a-change-become-a-local-councillor/> or you can go direct to the NALC website - <https://www.nalc.gov.uk/our-work/elections> Candidates will need to submit the necessary nomination forms to Bradford Council by 4pm on Wednesday 3rd April.

Office/toilets conversion project

At the full Council meeting on 26th February, Councillors approved the documents presented by project managers Bowman Riley that will form the basis of a planning application. There were some agreed minor amendments in the form of revised windows and provision of a movable partition.

For the purposes of applying for borrowing approval from the Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government, as previously agreed following an extensive community consultation, the Council is required to notify residents of these additional costs and invite comments. The budget costs were £10,000 for the movable partition and £7,000 for the windows. These items will be tendered as part of the full tendering process.

The amended plans are available to view on the Town Council website:

If you have any views on these, please contact: enquiries@bingleytowncouncil.gov.uk by Monday 18th March, giving your name, address and contact details.

The application will be submitted to Bradford Council and the outcome will be expected 8-12 weeks following submission. In the meantime, work to agree the terms of the Community Asset Transfer (CAT) of the toilet block is expected to conclude shortly.

Markets in 2019

Bingley Town Council are proud to announce that, following a successful pilot scheme in 2018 and consultation with residents, there will be a market in Bingley on the first Saturday of every month from April to December between 9.00 a.m. and 1.00 p.m. The markets will provide a range of high-class stalls selling a variety of produce, including some exciting new food stalls, as well as entertainment. Make a regular date to come down and enjoy the market.

The dates for your diary are 6th April, 4th May, 1st June, 6th July, 3rd August, 7th September, 5th October, 2nd November and 7th December.

Annual Town Meeting, 7th March 2019

The Annual Town Meeting is being held at 6.30 pm on Thursday 7th March at Cottingley Community Centre. This is an opportunity for all residents to ask questions of their Town Councillors and to hear from local speakers about activities in the town. This year's speakers include representatives from Park Run and Trinity Community Kitchen.

Organisations that have received grants from the Town Council during the year are being invited to provide a display giving information about their activities. Why not come along to find out about activities going on near you?

Flower Display

The Town Council is again ordering reduced-priced summer bedding plants from Bradford Council, to be planted in public spaces around the parish by local gardening groups, Friends groups and village societies.

If you have any queries relating to council matters, you can contact either Chris O'Neill or Mark Truelove. E-mail:- chris.o'neill@bingleytowncouncil.gov.uk or mark.truelove@bingleytowncouncil.gov.uk

Yorkshire Countrywomen's Association

At our meeting on Tuesday 12 February our speaker was Roger Pollard. He spoke on a Taste of Bell Ringing, and the very interesting History of Bell Ringing over the centuries, worldwide and in Britain and how it started. There was a very small and amusing slide show. Some ladies who volunteered were shown how to play the Bells. It was very good. This was followed by tea and biscuits.

Our Next Meeting is on 9 April. Our speaker is John Clay who will be giving a talk on the History of the Black Dyke Band.

The Summer Trip has been planned for 21 August 2019. More details to follow.

PARTY IN THE PARK 1869 to 2019

FROM BLEATHERHEADS TO TEDDYBEARS

Prince of Wales Park, thanks to 19th century quarrying which had ceased before 1861 was, as a result, endowed with a natural Arena, once described as, 'an Ariana capable of holding thousands of persons.' This was partially proved in 2015 when the 150th anniversary of the park was celebrated with a gala and an estimated 1000 people crowded in.

The Bleatherhead Band was formed in Baildon in 1857. Its principal purpose was to lead carnival and feast day parades, in colourful and comic dress, whilst playing an assortment of objects, some of which could be described as musical instruments. All over the country in that era there were other such bands, mainly epitomised by dress and parody. At the opening of Prince of Wales Park there was a typical display by the Bleatherheads, having marched all the way up from Bingley, fuelled with strength from the town's many alehouses. The pride of place in the parade was taken by a carriage in which figures likened to the Prince of Wales and his wife Princess Alexandra, waved royally to the assembled crowds. The Bingley Feast took place every August in various parts of the town and of course the park was used for concerts, sports and games on those occasions.

Having taken up the mantle of organising such events, the Friends of Prince of Wales Park are following, 150 years later, with TEDDYMANIA PROMOTED BY THE BINGLEY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE on Sunday 14th July 2019.

Returning to the subject of the Bleatherheads, there are newspaper articles and even chapters in books which fully describe their appearances and performances. One book in particular was written by an author who always used a quirky style in disguising place names. So, for instance, Woolborough was used for Bradford, Bington for Bingley, and Prince Albert Park instead of Prince of Wales Park in a description of a Bleatherheads party in the park. James Burnley, in his book called West Riding Sketches, published in 1875 was one who included the chapter recalling that party. First he describes Bington itself as having the main street 'the High Road on which the High Flyer and Rockingham coaches were accustomed to travel.' Entering the town from Woolborough, 'the large smoke-hued densely populated town' there were ancient hostellers, one of which could have been like the White Horse because they had 'crumbling walls dressed up with plaster and white paint.' Opposite the 'new' Mechanics Institute was a large mansion converted into a bank and the principal hotel stood above the lane leading down to the railway station. The valley was heavily wooded on one side and moorland on the other – Gilstead Moor as was? There were already 'palatial mansions' dotted around which contrasted with the homes of those who were drawn to Bington 'to assist the steam god filling the world with new garments'. But in the summer everyone looked forward to the arrival of the Bleatherhead Carnival. Bleatherhead, in Yorkshire terminology, meant empty headed or 'noodle' and Bleather was Yorkshire for bladder, hence Bleatherhead. At the start of the carnival the crowds thronged the main street in front of one pub, The George and Dragon whose upstairs windows were filled with mysterious figures, Chinese, Hottentot, Patagonian, Red and Black Indian, the male and female Bleatherheads in customary dress. Nearby, posted on the ancient Buttercross and Market Hall, on stable and barn doors were placards, announcing that the Grand Annual Festival of the Bleatherheads would be held that afternoon in the Royal Albert Park. The costumed procession set off at 3 o'clock to a combination of sounds, fife, serpentine brass, cornets, penny trumpets, cans, pots and frying pans. Two 'coal cart' horses carried the King and Queen of the Bleatherheads. Up the steep hill they went to arrive at the Park – 'a barren tract of enclosed moorland and on the level plateau they pitched their tents.' Was this today's Arena or the Heath? Fires were lit, soup put on the boil, gingerbread and pie stalls opened and the banquet began. After that came the entertainment with the band playing and featuring 'two enormous guitars labelled Thorne's Trinidad Cocoa, and Colman's Mustard, a frying pan solo, all eclipsed by the dancing. Sir Roger danced with Azucena, Ivanhoe with Meg Merrilies, the Scotch Highlander with an Ancient Druid. The King and Queen danced together, refusing to be separated. Dancing and drinking until sundown, the procession reforms and returns to the Dog and Dragon 'to see the night out and the Bington Carnival is at an end for another year'. We still have a Carnival Queen but no King.

The Friends of Prince of Wales Park, its small committee and additional volunteers have made a programme of events through each year since 2013, as well as guided walks, but the highlights have been the summer events of 2015 and 2017. By popular demand and thanks to support from many local organisations and promoted by Bingley Chamber of Commerce, there will be TEDDYMANIA. Fun and Games, Music, Food and Drink and even a Teddy Trail will be there for everyone. So be there with your Teddy Bear or adults may once again be a Teddy Boy or Teddy Girl!

CROWDFUNDING FOR LIGHTS AT ELWDICK SCOUT AND GUIDE HUT

Thank you so much to those who have so generously donated, either via the Post Office or on line to the Fundraising Go Fund Me page.

We are half way to our target to upgrade the electrics at the Scout & Guide Hut.

There is still the opportunity to contribute, here are the details :-

Eldwick Scout and Guide Hut is moving into the 21st century and installing LED lights and upgrading the Fuse Box.

The Hut has been used by thousands of children as Brownies, Guides, Cubs and Scouts over the last 60 + years and continues to provide a regular meeting place for over 100 children each week thanks to the dedication and enthusiasm of the group leaders both past and present.

With an anticipated cost of just over £800 this will stretch the Hut's finances. We are appealing to the community to help with the costs. A donation however large or small will help us reach our target.

Please follow the link and support the cause - <https://www.gofundme.com/eldwick-scout-and-guide-lights>.

Thank you in anticipation of your support.

If you are not online Nigel at Eldwick Post Office will be pleased to receive envelopes on our behalf (Cheques payable to Eldwick Scout & Guide Hut)

Thank you for supporting the future of the youth of Eldwick.
